

FUNCTIONAL ENGLISH - LAB

ASSIGNMENT # 01

Name: Shah Hunain

Roll Number: 23k-3032

Patriotism:

True love, devotion and loyalty for motherland is called 'Patriotism'.

The word is derived from Greek word 'Patriota' which means 'countryman'. The word itself demands devotion. It is patriotism due to which people make sacrifices for their native land either the sacrifice of their belongings or the sacrifice of their lives. It is all patriotism due to which soldiers remain at the borders to protect their land regardless of losing their lives. The love for land is irreplaceable, one living in foreign can truly express how does it feel not to be in your own country. It is a quality which all must possess.

Courage:

Ability of doing something without any sort of fear is basically called 'courage'.

A person is called courageous if he is willing to express himself at all cost without any fear of how others would react or how he would be considered after that act. Having courage is the best thing one could have because there are many people who knows a lot, who can acquire a better place in the society, but due to the lack of courage they stay behind. People with courage do not fear to express their ideas even if they are wrong, they just have the courage to face the condition, and that is basically what is required in the society because if a person lacks courage to speak or to express he will never come to know whether he was right or not.